Graduate Outcomes Report

Class of 2024

Prepared by:	Kescha Bell-Ross, Director of Career Development &amp; Civic Engagement Marco Anglesio, Executive Director of Institutional Research &amp; Effectiveness Tatiana Quiñones, Institutional Research &amp; Effectiveness Analyst
Data Collection:	Kescha Bell-Ross, Director of Career Development &amp; Civic Engagement M. Leni Johnson, Career Specialist

Executive Summary

The 2024 graduate outcome surveys were distributed in May of 2024 to students who completed degrees during the 2023-2024 academic year. We were able to reach even more students this year, achieving a 73.4% response rate—nearly 5% higher than the previous record of 68.6% set last year. This is significantly higher than the average response rate for two-year colleges and exceeds the average response rate for four-year colleges.

The rate of graduates reporting a positive educational outcome (either continuing in education, employed, or both) fell for the second consecutive year, dropping to 91.4% from 93.5% in 2023 and 95% in 2022. This may be caused by the increased response rate rather than an underlying trend; we are reaching more students who didn't have a positive outcome and are less likely to respond.

Wage data also moved in different directions: the mean wage went up from $20.00 in 2023 to $23.52 in 2024, while the median wage went down, from $22.93 to $19.96. Taken together, there is no consistent picture as to whether graduate employment and graduate wages are rising or falling.

Kutztown University remains the institution where the largest number of LCCC graduates (23%, 90 students) indicated they are continuing their education, an increase of 4% year-over-year. Other colleges/universities to which a significant number of graduates report transferring to are: all campuses of Penn State (9%, 34 students), Temple University (3%, 13 students), Cedar Crest College (3%, 11 students), and Moravian University (3%, 10 students), with DeSales University and East Stroudsburg University dropping out of the top five. 12% of students planned to remain at LCCC for further study.
